

GIVEN WARM RECEPTION

Foster Brooks Shoots at a Burglar.

WHO WAS TRYING KEYS

In the Doors of Residence at 1021 North Emporia.

A burglar attempted to enter the home of Mr. Foster Brooks, 1021 North Emporia, Thursday night, and was given a red hot reception. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks had been at a social and did not return until after midnight. After they had retired Mrs. Brooks heard some one at the front door, as if they were trying to get in. She called out and asked who it was. The man had changed keys several times. The racket would be noticeable a few moments and then would cease, with the note as if one was drawing the keys from the lock. Finally she got up and went to the door and the burglar could be seen in the act of trying to get in. Mr. Brooks was awakened by his wife's shouting and he called to her, when she told him a man was trying to get in. Mr. Brooks then called the following words to the burglar:

"I heard some one rattling at the door and went to see what the matter was. I could hear the burglar. Then my husband called and told me a man was trying to get in the front door. He came out of the room with the revolver and was going down stairs, but I would not let him go, so he sat down at the head of the stairs and listened. When he first came out the door, stopped and pretty soon it began again."

"It was a bright moonlight night and we could see a shadow of the burglar on the wall of the door. The man must have had a number of keys and was trying them, as he would try one and then take it out and try another in another and try to turn the lock. Mr. Brooks did not see the burglar, but he saw the shadow of the burglar on the wall of the door. The burglar made a big hole in the door and was in the act of getting in. Mr. Brooks then called the following words to the burglar:

"The house in which Mr. Brooks lives is a large double-story house and there is a stairway leading to the second floor directly in front of the door. Mr. Brooks could see the light in the door, as he was in the dark. He could only see a shadow moving across the panel, but that was sufficient to know that he was a man."

The burglar made a big hole in the door and was in the act of getting in. Mr. Brooks then called the following words to the burglar:

MR. BECKEMEYER IMPROVED

He May Be Able to Get Out of Bed in Three Weeks.

Otto Beckmeyer, at St. Francis hospital, has shown marked improvement since yesterday when his leg was put in a plaster cast by Dr. Beckmeyer, assisted by Mr. Clark. The doctor, in his examination, found the leg broken at the knee and a fracture of the bone between the knee and the ankle. He thought now that he will be able to get up in about three weeks.
